The Journey of Life

Like a fruit tree we all know our seasons.
In spring the tree is full of buds and blossoms.
So at times our lives are full of hope and promise.

In summer the tree is full of leaves.
Our lives at times are like that.
They are full of joy and contentment.

In autumn the tree becomes a feast of colour and is full of ripe fruit.
at times our lives are like that full of meaning and achievement.

But in winter the tree is stripped bare.
So winter can hit our lives.
We are in the grip of a pain and depression
that robs us of everything,
even of the will to live.
It is on that day we need the visit of an angel.

However, if in the height of my summer
I failed to see my neighbour's winter,
what right have I to expect such an angel?

The marvellous thing about this was that in the midst of his own winter
he created spring for another person.
